

Tides

flipturn

Watching tides grow
Letting time go
Today, the river sits like glass

Taking in silence
Seeking asylum
From chaos, now the calm contracts
And I relax

Trying out treason
For no good reason
Really
Just couldn't let the chance slip past

Giving up grieving
Surrendering seasonally
It was silly
Just seeing how the sun licks the grass

How the shade seems to pass
How difficult it is for darkness to last

And nobody's panicking
And nobody's panicking, ooh
Ooh, it's coming, change is coming
Ooh, ooh, it's coming, change is coming fast
And the world reacts

And you're making sense of it all
Saying, "Is it so bad?"
Is it your fault
Well, everything's everywhere
Seeping like sap
Well, everything's everywhere
The chrysalis cracks

And nobody's panicking
And nobody's panicking, ooh
Ooh, it's coming, change is coming
Ooh, ooh, it's coming, change is coming fast
And the world reacts
