

Weepy Woman

flipturn

Weepy woman
Your eyes could wash my habits
Drown me like a Baptist
Hold me like a casket
But they couldn't
Deny you've lost some passion
And it's not my lack of asking
It's that you have
And that you haven't

Well, everyone knows that you've got so much heart

And you understood it
Patient like a practice
Taking me like LSD and thinking it was magic
'Cause you're willing
To just sit and see what happens
Waiting just to see something you haven't

Well, everyone knows that you've got so much heart
And, honey, I can see it's tearing you apart

'Cause you're making a scene
And I'm dripping clean
From what I've seen
Love shouldn't be this hard
