

Spaces In Between Us

Floater

"I'll tell you everything, and you tell me everything, and maybe we can get through all the piss and shit and lies that kill other people." [Claudia Gator : Magnolia]

So this is love?
So this is loneliness?
So this is heartache that you just cannot bear?
I'll miss your poison, I'll miss your sweet caress
And all those moments in the day when I wished that I was unaware

Spaces in between us start to fill
So prepare to finally break your will
Your will
Yeah

And so the days pass by still we never wonder why it feels so simple and yet...

Out of the clear blue sky, no one saw the arrow fly in Feel your palms getting wet
You start to sweat

Spaces in between us start to fill
So prepare to finally break your will

This is the Queen gonna eat that pawn up
This is the King gonna wake up that dawn up
This is the way that the sheets are drawn up
So this love?
This is the thing that you do without a reason
This is the rain that ends the dry season
This is locked up until you put your keys in
So this is love
Spaces in between us start to fill
So prepare to finally break your will
