

The Watching Song

Floater

I squeezed and slid my wet way out
Into a world that was too damn cold
My pushing mother had no doubt
That the child would be something to behold

And all the church bells rang
All the angels sang
And I thought I should feel safe
But I was always watching, always. Yeah, yeahhhh

And I can't slow it down
I watch the seasons roll
And I can't slow it down
Watch the seasons roll
And I can't slow it down
Watch the seasons roll. yeah!

Angels! Why don't you save us?

Devil! Why don't you take us?
Take us from ourselves?
Take us from ourselves!
Take us from ourselves!

Ahhyeah ah ah ah ah ah ah ah.....

I know that I should feel safe
I'm always watching
I know that I should feel safe
But I'm always watching
I know that I should feel safe
I'm always watching
I know that I should feel safe
But I'm always watching
I know that I should feel safe

[what the hell do you think you are doing?]
