

Dragon

Flora Cash

Down there
Deep in the darkness
I know you're awake

And it took about as much strength
As I have to fake

And somewhere out there
There's someone who knows how I feel

Lost in illusions
And bound to the things that seem real

I feel like a dragon
That's blown out the flame from his heart
And burned as he fell, what was left
Of the life that he charred

Down here
Darkness likes to rein unabated

Some call it out but
Most are content or sedated

Things don't look so bad at times
If you're drunk or you're stoned

But I feel
Like I'm
Wasting my time and it's wrong

I feel like an angel
Who's come out from hell
To believe
Like someone that's blinded to truth
And who finally sees

I hope that you're there when I close my eyes
I need you so

It feels like I'm almost ready to fly on my own
Feel like I'm already leaving my body, I hope
If I come home
That's all right
