

Pieces

Florrie

So you wanna talk about power?
So you wanna talk about pain?
There's a quiet voice getting louder
And I've been letting go of the shame

I've got nobody to save but myself
And I've found the courage to say no
I'm so done with fighting for somebody else, 'body else, 'body
else

You broke my heart
But I left you with all the pieces
Now every part of you wants me
But I won't repeat it
I gave you all my trust, you tore it up
You cut me down in the name of love
You broke my heart
And I left you with all the pieces
But I'm not grieving

So you wanna talk about power?
I've been making peace with my pain
I don't need you buying me flowers
Like we can start all over again

I've got nobody to save but myself
And I've found the courage to say no
I'm so done with fighting for somebody else, 'body else, 'body
else

You broke my heart
But I left you with all the pieces
Now every part of you wants me
But I won't repeat it
I gave you all my trust, you tore it up
You cut me down in the name of love
You broke my heart
And I left you with all the pieces
But I'm not grieving

But I'm not grieving