

The Lost Ones

Florrie

We're the lost ones, yeah
It's a jungle, yeah
Our thorns are buried deep but we see beauty in our dreams
And we're broken, yeah
But we're hopeful, yeah
To find our remedy
We see beauty in our dreams

We are flawed
And we're afraid
Of a past that we couldn't change
And the dreams that we didn't chase
Have been and gone

And all this weight
Is put on us
Expectations we couldn't touch
When the best wasn't good enough
We kept moving on

All the nights that you felt alone
With the people didn't know
And the places you didn't go
Faded so fast

You're escaping the memories
And making peace with the enemy
Cause you know right where you wanna be

We're the lost ones, yeah
It's a jungle, yeah
Our thorns are buried deep but we see beauty in our dreams
And we're broken, yeah
But we're hopeful, yeah
To find our remedy
We see beauty in our dreams

We are damaged
But untouched
Cause we stayed when we should've run
The mistakes made when we were young
They've been and gone

We have loved
And we have sinned

From outside always looking in
Never felt like you fitted in
Just holding on

All the nights that you felt alone
With the people didn't know
And the places you didn't go
Faded so fast

We're the lost ones, yeah
It's a jungle, yeah
To find our remedy
We see beauty in our dreams

Cause we are flawed
And we're afraid
Of a past that we tried to change
But our dreams didn't go to waste
They're holding on

And all this weight
Is put on us
But we know that we're good enough
We'll keep moving on

We're the lost ones, yeah
It's a jungle, yeah
Our thorns are buried deep but we see beauty in our dreams
And we're broken, yeah
But we're hopeful, yeah
To find our remedy
We see beauty in our dreams

We're the lost ones, yeah
It's a jungle, yeah
Our thorns are buried deep but we see beauty in our dreams
And we're broken, yeah
To find our remedy
