

The shining horizon, the beginning and the end blended together
, there lies the origin of tears

With my trembling hand I stuffed in my pocket what I believe in Beyond the wavering mirage

If I look up at the sky I'll be led by the nostalgic and warm light granted to me
You waved your small hand You don't have to go, don't cry anymore Shangri-La
Let's dive into a new world I was embraced by the blue color...

The aim is the far away horizon in this road Make your steps slow but steady, now, let's go

Even while breaking, even while in confusion, you are still living today
Thats something some people desire

If I look up at the sky I'll be led by the nostalgic and warm light granted to me
You waved your small hand You don't have to go, don't cry anymore Shangri-La
Let's dive into a new world I was embraced by the blue color...

How far does the other side of darkness goes unchanged Deep and beautiful blue, blue from the sea and sky, let's meet again

If I look up at the sky I'll be led by the nostalgic and warm light granted to me
You waved your small hand Can you hear me? I'll be waiting, Shangri-La Let's survive in the
