Another Life

Flower Face

Static songs on the radio
Back to the city where we fell in love
Now tell me we're better off

Backroad headlight dancing queen
Backseat where you held my hand, now tell me
It's easier this way

Cause I loved you then and I love you now
What does this all mean, what's it all about?
If it's not enough we can let it die
And I will see your face in another life

Sleepless angel, sun dance kiss
Gentle lover, break that fist
Don't leave me knocking at your door

Sometimes I'm alone out here
Sometimes I'm a sparrow or a ghost
Just weeping at your window

And someday, by the train station
My lover, he will wait for me
And I will look for you

Cause I loved you then and I love you now
Don't need to practice love, we already know
If you leave me now I won't ask you why
But we can start again in another life

Maybe God will let me sleep
Or take away these dreams
When you painted yourself red
I wiped all your handprints clean
I do it all for you

Cause I loved you then and I love you now
What does this all mean, what's it all about?
If we leave right now, never tell them why
We can start again in another life
