

Valentine

Flower Face

I'll throw you a party, with all of your friends
We'll kiss like the movies, we'll stay 'til the end
And then we'll get married, we can live on the beach
Where it's always October, 'cause you'd give up the sun for me
And all your friends hate me, I'm not a likeable girl
Your parents keep saying that I'm more trouble than I'm worth

Valentine, what do they know?
Does it belong to you and me or everybody now?
Love of mine, why'd you go?
I can't forget you now, it's impossible

Do you want to be free?
Do you just want to be free of me?

I was always a stranger, not a comfortable kid
Sick from the sunlight, crescent moon wrists
But I gave you something, I built a whole world for you
But I took it too far like I always do
And I love you so deeply, and you hurt me so bad
I'm all out of poetry, you made me so sad

Valentine, are you happy now?
You're so good at leaving, can you teach me how?
Love of mine, I'm not doing so well
I've never been a runner, I tend to stick around

But you were always a flight risk
Everyone knew it
Except for me
