

When you feel like falling again
I promise I will do all that I can

Fall asleep floating on the ocean
Feel the waves take you up high
Like you're about to touch the sky
When mother had doubts
You shook loose all of her blues
Full speed to the world that you
Created for yourself

Let go
Try to find your heart inside this echo
Calling from the unknown

When you feel like falling again
I promise I will do all that I can

When you feel like falling again
I promise I will do all that I can
To keep you afloat 'cause all that I am
Has always been yours, yours

Silently the rain falls on your window
As you dream of your blue skies
So far away from all your ties
My love if I had to Put myself in your shoes
I'd know just how hard you fell

When you feel like falling again
I promise I will do all that I can
(When you feel like falling again)

When you feel like falling again
I promise I will do all that I can
To keep you afloat 'cause all that I am
Has always been yours, yours

When you feel like falling again
I promise I will do all that I can
To keep you afloat 'cause all that I am
Has always been yours, yours
