

The Hymn

FLOYA

I hope you understand that I cannot stay
Don't expect you to feel the same
There's a dream that I have to chase, uh

New worlds await
Daring me to turn the page
To unfold the mystery
Let my journey change me
I wanna see where the stars might lead me
I feel the heat envelop my heart
Setting sail for a new shore (New shore)
To find the light in my soul

I hope you understand that I cannot stay
Don't expect you to feel the same
There's a dream that I have to chase, uh

I'm feeling alive in the unknown
Dancing to the hymn of the wind
And though you and I are on our own
I know you're close whenever I feel alone
I feel alone

All of my life
Spent somewhere I could not thrive
Somewhere I lost empathy
For every melody
I have to leave for the sake of leaving
To build my kingdom up in the clouds
Setting sail for a new shore (New shore)
To find the light in my soul

I'm feeling alive in the unknown
Dancing to the hymn of the wind
And though you and I are on our own
I know you're close whenever I feel alone
Someday when the sun's at its highest
I'll be dancing with you in the wind
And though you and I are on our own
You're always close whenever I feel alone

I hope you understand that I cannot stay
Don't expect you to feel the same
There's a dream that I have to chase, uh
