

I see a door slowly opening
Then a beam of light cutting through the darkness
And the spark of hope was just enough
But it wasn't you, just my imagination

I held your hand firmly at the end
Tried to keep you calm, tried to take your worries
You've been brave throughout your entire life
(You were, you were, you were)
It's okay, I know I will see you in time

I know
Wherever I go you'll always be by my side
I know, I know
I had to let you go

I know
Wherever I go you'll always be by my side
I know, I know
I had to let you go

You are my star in the sky
Watching over me every night
You are my home

You are my home
