

I Got Something

Flux Pavilion

I got something
We got something
I got something
We got something

I got something the world ain't ever seen
So put your hands up and put your hands up
I got something the world ain't ever seen
So put your hands up and put your hands up
We got something

I got something
We got something
I got something
We got something

I got something the world ain't ever seen
So put your hands up and put your hands up
We got something

I got something
We got something
I got something
We got something

I got something the world ain't ever seen
So put your hands up and put your hands up

We got something

I got something
We got something
I got something
We got something

I got something
We got something
I got something
We got something

I got something
