

Divine Thing

Fly By Midnight

Hard to find
Yeah, I've always been out running
With a ten-track mind
I won't lie
I'm a rubber band stretching
And it snapped on time

I hate to let it go
Cold-blooded, cynical
This one is out of my hand

You know it kills a man to define things
But looking at you is a divine thing
I change my mind and give up everything
Don't know why
But you take me to the other side

Hard to say
Oh, what'd you put in this to make it such a sweet escape?
Night and day
The sun is setting, 'cause you get me to a higher place

I love to let it go
Cold-blooded, cynical
This one is out of my hand

You know it kills a man to define things
But looking at you is a divine thing
I change my mind and give up everything
Don't know why
But you take me to the other side

You're so divine, turn the sky to a choir
That angel face got me walking on water
Match-made in Heaven, you struck me on fire
I wanna tell ya
Ooh, I wanna tell you now

You know it kills a man to define things
But looking at you is a divine thing
I change my mind and give up everything
Don't know why
But you take me to the other side
Oh, you take me to the other side
