

Spark

Fly By Midnight

She's a rose beneath the concrete, just searching for the sun
There's a certain kind of comfort knowing I'm not the only one
I been here a thousand nights, you been missing all the signs
Oh, it's getting kinda dark now and I'm running out of time

Ooh-ooh
Come on, come on, I know that you're out there

I need a spark
A one stone cannon tonight without your heart
And I know you fuel the fire
Oh, I'm looking for a match tonight
A little heat from you to me, I need a
Spark, spark, spark, ah... ah... ah...

I just need a little
I just need a little spark
I just need a little
I just need a little
I just need a little
I just need a little
Spark, spark, spark, ah... ah... ah...

(I need a spark)
Spark, spark, spark, ah... ah... ah...

She's floating on the open sea, and I'm waiting on the shore
Yeah, I know you're not in front of me, but we're closer than before
Yeah, it's hard to be a dreamer, can't get you out of my head
But there's hope in me like poetry, so I'll wait until I'm dead

I need a spark
A one stone cannon tonight without your heart
And I know you fuel the fire
Oh, I'm looking for a match tonight
A little heat from you to me, I need a
Spark, spark, spark, ah... ah... ah...

I just need a little
I just need a little spark
I just need a little
I just need a little
I just need a little
I just need a little spark
I just need a little
I just need a little
I just need a little spark
I just need a little
I just need a little
I just need a little
I just need a little
Spark, spark, spark, ah... ah... ah...

(I need a spark)
Spark, spark, spark, ah... ah... ah...

I need a spark

A one stone cannon tonight without your heart
And I know you fuel the fire
Oh, I'm looking for a match tonight
A little heat from you to me, I need a
Spark, spark, spark, ah... ah... ah...
