

change

flyingfish

When I look into your face, things never seem the same
When you feel the way I've felt, it never goes away
Take what you want from me
Take what you want from me

Take what you want from me
Take what you want from me
It's like you never seem to change
It's like you never seem to change

When I look into your face, things never seem the same