2am

Foals

It's 2am and I've gone and lost my friends
But I can't sleep alone again
No, I can't sleep alone, I just wanna go home
And it's 2am again
And all these years, I've been running from my fears
But I can't sleep alone again
And all my life, I've been looking for a light
That I can't reignite again

I know that it's all over when we go
When we go our way
But I hoped that we'd be stronger
Now I know, but now I know

No, I can't sleep alone, I just wanna go home
But I sleep alone again
And I've been here before, I was always wanting more
But I never knew when to end
I'm black and I'm blue, I was always there for you
But now you've gone again
No, I can't sleep alone, I just wanna go home
And it's 2am again

We know that it's all over when we go
When we go our way
But I hoped that we'd be stronger
Now I know, but now I know

It's the nights
When I keep you in my mind
That I hoped that I'd be fine
But I've started showing signs
Of another late night
Of another night time
Oh, I hoped that you'd be mine
It's the nights, it's the nights
When I keep you in my mind
Oh, I hoped that I'd be fine
But I've started showing signs
Of another late night
Of another night time

I lost myself again, I just need time to mend
Some quiet and some care, some time to repair
Would you be my guide? Take me by my side
Make me up a bed, forget the things I said
I lost myself again, I just need time to mend
Some quiet and some care, some time to repair
Make me up a bed, forget the things I said
The things I said then
At 2am, at 2am
At 2am, at 2am
