

Mad Scientist

Fog Lake

And it all went down the drain
All the photos lost their meaning
Never saw that side again
Don't forget what gets you high
So you can hold yourself together
When you're running out of time

I had a heart
But yeah, you fucked it up forever
Things just never came to light
And now I'm holding on to never
I don't want to have the chance
To see the world without your hands
There's only so much I can stand

So it all went down the drain