

Serotonin

Fog Lake

I stopped by to your place
On the way back home
It felt innocent, a lack of modern intent
We took time to displace how we felt alone
Was it real or was it all inside of our heads?

Felt like a lie at the time
I couldn't tell the truth
Seven years ago, I was falling in love with you
Yeah, there's a lot of things about me you'll never know

She wasn't one in the same
She was a friend of mine
It was the serotonin, ask me if I'm doing alright
Yeah, there's a lot of things about me you shouldn't know

We jumped ship when the curtains were finally pulled
It felt useless, another lifelong regret
It was a crime, yeah, some ways, it was criminal
Was just a kiss or was the love inside of you dead?

Felt like a lot at the time
I was just seventeen
Seven years ago, you were falling in love with me
Yeah, there's a lot things about you I shouldn't know
