FO&O

You always call me half past ten
Your fingers craving for my skin
No words just clothes spread on my floor and
Girl I love when you just storm in
But then you're gone six in the morning

Oh, does she know
How my heart is beating for her
Want more than simple touch
Oh, but she knows
That she can't find another
To touch her right

She wants my body tonight
But we're like fire and ice
And she don't notice
She don't notice
Want more than body tonight
But these sheets are holding us tight
Oh, she don't notice
Yeah, she don't notice

Can't find the way to lay you down
Without me wanting you around (all the time)
Girl you wear your favorite dress now
But I know that it's not for me
'Cause I just get what's underneath

Oh, but she knows
That she can't find another
To touch her right

She wants my body tonight
But we're like fire and ice
And she don't notice
She don't notice
Want more than body tonight
But these sheets are holding us tight
Oh, she don't notice
Yeah, she don't notice

Oh
Oh she don't notice
Yeah, she don't notice

She, does she know
How my heart is beating for her
Want more than simple touch
But she, does she know
That she can't find another
To touch her like I do

She wants my body tonight
But we're like fire and ice
And she don't notice
She don't notice

But these sheets are holding us tight
Yeah, she don't notice

Oh, oh
Yeah she don't notice, no no no no
She don't notice, no no no no
Oh, oh
Oh she don't notice
She don't notice, no-oh
