

High Again

Fools Garden

Ally has set his heart on fire
He's seventeen, so far away
From being cool, so much desire
No time to sleep, no place to stay
He's left his home to write a story
And find the golden key of life
He dreams of happiness and glory
He's got a job from nine to five
And he wants get high again
And he wants to get high again

Because this life is a rocket chair
Push the button and you will be there
Life is rocket chair
Your passion is the mission (yeah)

You have to find a high solution
When all you get is not enough
Try to escape from soul pollution
And find a higher place above

Because this life is a rocket chair
Push the button and you will be there (forever)
Life is rocket chair
Don't wait another minute (yeah)

And blast it all away
Just blast it off today
Don't wait another minute
If you want to get high again (you know)
If you want to get high again (you know)
Love is the mission
If you want to get high again (you know)
You are the mission
If you want it just try, and then just go

Life is a rocket chair
Push the button and you will be there (forever)
Life is rocket chair
Your passion is the mission (yeah)

Forever
Love is the mission
You are the mission
Oh yeah
Don't wait another minute
If you want to get high again (you know)
Love is the mission
If you want to get high again (you know)
You are the mission
If you want it just try, and then just go
Yeah, yeah, yeah
