Rise and Fall

Fools Garden

As I'm walking down the lane
This old familiar way
I'm diving into memories
I'm sailing out tonight
Far away

A place to begin
A time to end
A blink of the eye
A grain of sand

And we rise and fall
We can have it all
We're burning like fire
We're shining today
We're leaving tomorrow
We're fading away
Returning to innocence
Someday

Now the rain begins to fall
It's like dust before my eyes
And suddenly I see them all
So clear and real again

A place to begin
A time to end
A blink of the eye
A grain of sand

And we rise and fall
We can have it all
We're burning like fire
We're shining today
We're leaving tomorrow
We're fading away
Returning to innocence
Someday

A place to begin
A time to end
A blink of the eye
A grain of sand

And we rise and fall
We can have it all
We're burning like fire
We're shining today
We're leaving tomorrow
We're fading away
Returning to innocence
Someday

And we rise and fall
We can have it all
We're burning like fire
We're shining today

We're leaving tomorrow
We're fading away
Returning to innocence
