

Nightmare

For All Eternity

This is the sound of my certain self being unwound
I sink deeper and deeper into hell, a hollow shell entering a new realm
Inside my mind, captive to a new reich
So this is what it sounds like?
This is what it sounds like

Hell
It's all around
Hell

So this is what it sounds like
Failure to prevail
Trapped in my own cell, living in my own hell

What is worth discerning through all this hurting?
This is truly concerning
I've seen hell and home blur together

Am I a man or a monster?
Am I a man or a monster?
I can feel it now

No returning back through all this hurting
The deep and dark has swallowed me up
There's no describing what I have become

Must I destroy myself to see the good prevail?
I was certain of who I was, but now I'm certain that it's all lost
Seems so much harder now, to keep my feet on the ground

I don't belong here, trapped in this nightmare
Pick me up, pull me out from this place that has me bound
I don't belong here, trapped in this nightmare
This is my life unwound and this is how it sounds
This is how it sounds
This is how it sounds

Will I ever exist again, with my own heart within my own skin?
Can you feel it now?
