

Elijah (The Forerunner)

For Today

Prepare the way for the Lord to enter in We must become a people who value righteousness again
Now, we can only stand back and hope to see Him move or we can be the willing hands of a mighty, living God

Make your choice
Now is the time
But, as for me,
I call down fire
God, rain fire

I believe that God will raise the dead, and He will use these hands to do it I believe that God will heal the sick
And He has sent me forth to say:
"He alone is God. Prepare for His victory."

Lord, would you bring a breakthrough of heaven on this earth?
Would you part the clouds, and pour down on our flesh?
We invite you to come, not only here, but to the world around us Surround us
I sought the Lord...
I sought the Lord and I found His voice

The mountain trembled, and there was a fire burning, then came the wind, and my God was not there It was a whisper that brought me His voice, because when heaven speaks to us, we will feel the peace of our perfect Father

Take my vision and tear down your world Take my vision and proclaim a time of favor
