

Deep Into Time

Forefather

They came from other lands to change our views
They said to worship their god or we would die eras on I yearn to reveal our ways again
To unveil ancient wisdom gained through generations

I dig deep into time
To bring back ancient ways
Before they clawed them down
Their reign is failing now

Our forefathers resisted all they could
To save the traditions olden
But they destroyed them and stole our children's minds
And now we shall restore forgotten honour and pride

Pure blood, unpoisoned water
Passed from father to son
An age now long since gone
Is there time to revert?
