

Dear Love

Forest Blakk

Dear love
I'm so sorry but I've sadly given up
In the pages that have all been torn up
And thrown against my heart

And it's not me
It is you that I cannot believe
The hardest truth is the one I cannot seem
The shake down from the stars

Just like you wanted
Just like I needed you

And I once was lost but now I found
That the road leads home to few
I think about it all from town to town
But I won't be coming home to you
Feel my beating heart, my beating heart
Skip a beat

Dear love
I'm so sorry but I've sadly given up
And all I've learned from life is I can hardly trust
A fuckin' word you say

Through all those sparks
Hidden arrows and all your poison darts
Catching lightning in a bottle in the dark
So I can find my way

Just like you wanted
Just like I needed you

And I once was lost but now I found
That the road leads home to few
I think about it all from town to town
But I won't be coming home to you
Feel my beating heart, feel my beating heart
Feel my beating heart skipping beat
Feel my beating heart, feel my beating heart
Feel my beating heart skipping beat

Dear love
I'm so sorry but I've sadly given up
The honest truth is that I can hardly trust
A single word you say
