I Remember

Forest Blakk

Love is a landslide on
Uneven ground where there
Ain't no shortcuts no
Way around it can
Knock you off your feet
Unexpectedly
You'll hardly even notice

Love is a long drive
Down the coast
Through the redwoods and
Winding roads
Unexpectedly
You and me
In the right place
At the right time
On the right day
All the right signs

Like fireflies all through the night
Moving in slowly

I remember the moment it happened
When your heart brought me in for the landing
In a second I knew
All I needed was you
Three chords and the truth
It was magic
I remember the moment it happened
When the words were as loud as an anthem
When I lost all control
Of my heart and my soul
I'm not sorry I'm overreacting
Cause you're more than I could've imagined

Well I was a songbird
And you were an actress
Owning a home
With only a mattress
We had everything
Unsuspectingly
We hardly even noticed

Out on our own
We were two of a kind
We were going through pictures
Of what we were like so
Unexpectedly
Always
On the right days
And the right signs

Like fireflies all through the night

I remember the moment it happened
When your heart brought me in for the landing
In a second I knew
All I needed was you
It was magic
When the words were as loud as an anthem
When I lost all control
Of my heart and my soul
I'm not sorry I'm overreacting

Ouuu, ohhh
You're more than I could've imagined
Oh, what are the chances

I remember the moment it happened
When our love became love everlasting
In a second I knew
All I needed was you
What are the chances

I remember like it just happened
When your heart brought me in for the landing
In a second I knew
All I needed was you
It was magic
When the words were as loud as an anthem
When I lost all control
Of my heart and my soul
I'm not sorry I'm overreacting
