Forever in Terror

So many things to say, But they will never mend.
And until this day when my word stood true,
I’m leaving the past behind to start over with something new.
I hope this tears you apart,
I hope this haunts you inside.
I remember what you said to me,
The first time you died.
I've watched us fail; more then I'd like to admit.
You’re nothing more to me then a selfish fucking heartless fake
Living in your lust; I see past the versions of your face.
I'm scratching your name off the one and only lover's list.
When I still believed in the word but now it’s gone you cease t o exist
So don't let down your guard and keep your enemies close.
Here’s where it’s setting in to the…
You’re nothing more to me then a selfish fucking heartless fake
Living in your lust; I see past the versions of your face.
Fist full of guilt send the damage to your name.
I hope this feeling fucking haunts you inside.
I'll send you off with a final goodbye,
These dreams have faded of you and I.
Silent Treatment now
