

Once Upon A Nightmare

Forever Still

So sick
Of trying to get rid of you
Hide all night
But know I will find you

I've been waiting for so long
Once again to feel this strong
Now my tears are running dry
Too much time has passed me by

Broken doll you left behind
Whore with vengeance haunts your mind

All the nightmares left in my mind
They tore me down
Like the storm shall break the trees
Now your pain is your own gain
Your shame and I
We will haunt you till you die

So you're hiding from the knife
That you know will end your life
And the fear you thought unreal
Is the fear that you now feel

I will hear you scream my name
Now you're caught in my sick game

All the nightmares left in my mind
They tore me down
Like the storm shall break the trees
Now your pain is your own gain
Your shame and I
We will haunt you till you die

After all the things you put me through
Did you really think I'd forgive you?
If you ever hear this words
It'll be from the whispering worms in your grave

I will hear you scream
Scream my name
Now you're caught in my sick game

All the nightmares left in my mind
They tore me down
Like the storm shall break the trees
Now your pain is your own gain
Your shame and I
We will haunt you till you die

They tore me down
Like the storm shall break the trees
Your shame and I
We will haunt you till you die
