

Save Me

Forever Still

I hear you calling
But you forgot my name
You live inside of me but nothing is the same
I keep your photos
In every frame
And with your eyes scratched out I hope you feel my pain

Still I wonder if you see me
In a light where you would

Save me again
Release me from this hell why won't you
Save me again
And mend the wings you tore off when we fell

I know you're watching
Like it's part of a game
And I just play along like no one is to blame
You shoot your arrows
With a terrible aim
And I'll just smile the day one pierces through your brain

Still I wonder if you need me
The way I need you

Save me again
Release me from this hell why won't you
Save me again
And mend the wings you tore off

Let me fall from your arms
If you can't heal these scars
Let me dream
In dreams you never leave me

Save me again
From you and from myself
