

The Key

Forever Still

Don't lock the door
Leave me with a sign
That I still belong
Anywhere but here

And I tried to hide
Behind my smile again
I changed my mind
(I changed my mind)

I embrace the pain dearly as a friend
I defy the shame just to feel again
And I wonder how I felt alive
When I've lost the key
That will set me free

So scared to wake
Open up my eyes
Realize I live
Someone else's life

And I've kept my heart imprisoned
For so long
Now I decide...

I embrace the pain dearly as a friend
I defy the shame just to feel again
And I wonder how I felt alive
When I've lost the key
That will set me free

Do I need you to feel whole again?
I won't need you to feel whole again

I embrace the pain dearly as a friend
I defy the shame just to feel again
And I wonder how I felt alive
When I've lost the key
That will set me free

Set free, set free
