

Chasing Low Vibrations

Foster the People

Time is moving faster when I'm counting down the
Days are getting longer when the life I live is
Free from all the water I was taking on from
Chasing low vibrations and fucking up everything

Well, I'm trying my best just to breathe in all the changes
Leaving the future for another day
There's a voice that I know even when I can't hear it
I can feel it, feel it say
"It will all be okay in"

Time is moving faster when I'm counting down the
Days are getting longer when the life I live is
Free from all the water I was taking on from
Chasing low vibrations and fucking up everything

But all those nights that my lights went out again
Pouring my heart into a stranger's bed
Too afraid to just look at myself and surrender
Saying, "You're overreacting"
But I was wrong
It just takes time

'Cause I wanna be free
From all the water I was taking on from
Chasing low vibrations and fucking up everything

In this world I love
We're reborn in the future
It just takes time
As below, so it's above
In this world of love
It just takes time
In this world I love
There's nobody to tell you
It just takes time
In this world I love
In this world that I love
