

Wipe Yourself off, Man. You Dead.

Four Year Strong

Clear my head
It's all I got left
It's the only thing to keep me from winding up dead

And I could never believe
That we can't even see
That this madness feeds our sanity

Watch the dust start to rise through the air
I don't know if it ever comes back again
Breathe it in so I never forget where we came from

Don't put out the fire
It's been the summer like I wanted but it's never enough
And although my bones are tired
I won't change a thing

Bear the crowd
We'll live like royals
How the hell? Wait no, wake up
My brain is boiled

And still we all play the game
In the sun and the rain
'Cause this madness feeds our sanity

Feel the heat as it's beating me down
I don't know if I'll ever get up again
Take it in so I never forget where we came from

Don't put out the fire
It's been the summer like I wanted but it's never enough
And although my bones are tired
I won't change a thing

When it's gone, its never gone for too long

This madness feeds our sanity

Watch the dust start to rise through the air
I don't know if it ever comes back again
Breathe it in so I'll never forget
I will never forget where we came from

Don't put out the fire
It's been the summer like I wanted but it's never enough
And although my bones are tired
I won't change a thing

When it's gone, its never gone for too long
