

Human In The Evening

Fox Stevenson

What am I doing
Tell me how I'm supposed to get by again
Are we getting into it
I think I might have lost all the will to pretend
I wanna keep moving
But everything changed and I don't know when
But tell me what you think
What am I doing

Oh I might be too much to compete with
But there's something underneath this
And I don't need to know the reasons
It ain't hard to feel the feeling
We've been choked to keep from screaming
We've been boasting to believing
Been eroded by the seasons
But we're human in the evening

Take it away now
Take it away now
Running your mouth out
Take it away now

(Ooooh)
(Take it away now)
(Take it away now)

So hit me with the rumors
Tell me how to feel, tell me how to age
A billion users
Weaponize boredom idle change
We don't wanna feel useless
We just wanna get by and enjoy the day
Cause honestly the truth is
No one's enjoying this anyway

It might be too much to compete with
But there's something underneath this
And I don't need to know the reasons
It ain't hard to feel the feeling
We've been choked to keep from screaming
We've been boasting to believing
Been eroded by the seasons
But we're human in the evening

Take it away now
Take it away now
Running your mouth out
Take it away now
(Ooooooh)
Take it a-

(Ooooooh)

Oh, I expect to see the beauty where I can
But oh, perspective keeps on slipping through my hands

It's all just too much to compete with Guess that's something I should deal with
I've been caught up in my feelings
And can't seem to see the reason
We've been choked to keep from screaming
We've been boasting to believing
Been eroded by the seasons
But we're human in the evening

So take it away now
Take it away now
Running your mouth out
Take it away now
What do we do now
What do we do now
Take it away now
Take it away now

Oh, I expect to see the beauty where I can
But oh, perspective keeps on slipping through my hands