

Never Before

Fox Stevenson

Well I know you'd like to think that I've got your back
But there ain't no way I could tell you how to act
And these city walls will never hold us back
Yeah we don't have to tell nobody that

Well I guess things, things keep on changing
I keep on changing like never before
Things, things keep on changing
I keep on aging like never before

Well I know you'd like to think that I've got your back
But there ain't no way I could tell you how to act
And these city walls will never hold us back
Yeah we don't have to tell nobody that

Well I guess things, things keep on changing
I keep on changing like never before
Things, things keep on changing
I keep on aging like never before

Things, things keep on changing
I keep on changing like never before
Things, things keep on changing
I keep on aging like never before