

Gentleman

Foxes

You drove me to paradise and pushed me out of the car
You saw me in the rear-view bleeding from my heart
But you never stopped, you could have stopped
You could have saved me from the darkness
That you laid on me, laid on me

You, you, you, you were never gonna stay, were ya?
I, I, I, I was just a holiday for ya
You, you, you, you were never gonna stay, were ya?
Were ya?
Were ya?

Oh my! Head in my hands
You threw my love like nothing
Oh my! Cut out so fast
And I never saw it coming
Oh you think you are, yeah, you said you were
But this ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman

Took me to stars and covered up my eyes
Let me taste a feeling, nothing but a lie
And you never cared, you could've cared
You could've saved me from this cold mess
You could've let me in, let me in

You, you, you, you were never gonna stay, were ya?
I, I, I, I was just a holiday for ya
You, you, you, you were never gonna stay, were ya?
Were ya?
Were ya?

Oh my! Head in my hands
You threw my love like nothing
Oh my! Cut out so fast
And I never saw it coming
Oh you think you are, yeah, you said you were
But this ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman
This ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman
This ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman
This ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman
Of a gentleman
Of a gentleman

Oh you think you are, yeah, you said you were
This ain't the work, this ain't the work
Oh you think you are, oh you said you were
This ain't the work, this ain't the work

Oh my! Head in my hands
You threw my love like nothing
Oh my! Cut out so fast
And I never saw it coming
Oh you think you are, yeah, you said you were
But this ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman
This ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman
This ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman
This ain't the work, this ain't the work of a gentleman

Of a gentleman
Of a gentleman
