

The Unknown

Foxes

Walking with the humans
But I don't think I'm like them at all
We're all wearing the same suits
But it doesn't seem right anymore

Dreaming in the daylight
And they say that we're going know where
Looking for the unsung if I listen I know I can hear
And I can't see a reason for this Mr
Not without madness going on

Living for the young ones can't ignore the feeling
But I like it like that in the unknown
Living under one roof I don't even know you
But I like it like that in the unknown
Living for the young ones when they gonna listen
I just need a reason living in a world without one

Is it magic that makes us
Or is it something in the blue sky
We're all speaking with the same tongue but I know that we don't think alike
Walking through the unknown lets make sure we don't do it alone
I just need a reason just to know that I'm doing it right

And I can't see a reason for this Mr
Not without madness going on

Living for the young ones can't ignore the feeling
But I like it like that in the unknown
Living under one roof I don't even know you
But I like it like that in the unknown
Living for the young ones when they gonna listen
I just need a reason living in a world without one

And I can't see a reason
We can't leave tonight
Build it up and go
I can't keep holding, what you want?

Living for the young ones can't ignore the feeling
But I like it like that in the unknown
Living under one roof I don't even know you
But I like it like that in the unknown
Living for the young ones when they gonna listen
I just need a reason living in a world without one
