

Where the Lightning Strikes Twice

Foxing

With everything we gave it
It's hard not to feel devastated
But with you not a day went wasted
So meet me in the tall grass
I twisted both of my ankles on a rain dance
Here up on the hill I want to die on

I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go, go, go...

When cartilage leaves our knees and
Sky refuses to weep well
I will stand ancient with you
And if I'm too high to speak but Too drunk to shut up
Let me take my time, let me find my words
Strike me down, let me burn

I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go, go, go...

I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go where the lightning strikes twice
I want to go, go, go...