Liberty queen

She was an American dream

They put a statue of her in the river

Boats passing by catch the big woman's eye

But a second glance, sailor don't give her

Gathering moss, staring across from the city

It's a pity

Nobody care-a

Bout a relic from a bygone era

Freedom, freedom, freedom
Free, that's what I was born to be

Home of the brave
Cradle to grave
Being righteous don't make you no money
'Cause I'm barely able to put food on the table while
Big bear's rolling in honey
But don't cry
There's only one thing you take with you when you die

Freedom, freedom, freedom
