

On Your Own Love Again

Foxygen

Here are the lies you've been telling me
There is a line of girls empty-handed
Everybody knows you're just a little tease

I tried to believe in you somehow
But every time I do, I get down and out

Cause there are the lies you've been telling me
Here is a way that you have understood it
Everybody knows you're just life in a dream

I tried to believe you're just someone out there in chains
You're just here on your own love again

Here on your own
Here on your own
You're just here on your own love again
