Capsized

Fozzy

I can feel it in my guts
I can feel it in the veins
It's just another door shut
It's just another restraint
I'm numb to what I've lost
Another high within the plain
I don't like what I've become
Another day I've spent in vain

Till I find out who I am
I'm waiting for the end
To come and take me under
Am I living in this lie
Part regret and part denial
How can I recover

Turning over in the waves (capsizing)
Lost forever in this lonely place (capsizing)
If tomorrow comes, can I keep holding on
Or let this storm I've made wash it all away

It's the no from your lips
It's the sadness in your eyes
The emptiness you can't fix
With a smile and a lie

Till I find out who I am
I'm waiting for the end
To come and take me under
Am I living in this lie
Part regret and part denial
How can I recover

Turning over in the waves (capsizing)
Lost forever in this lonely place (capsizing)
If tomorrow comes, can I keep holding on
Or let this storm I've made wash it all away

No shelter in this place
My head, a hurricane
I need someone to rescue me
Don't abandon me

Turning over in the waves
Lost forever in this lonely place
If tomorrow comes, can I keep holding on
Or let this storm I've made wash it all away

Turning over in the waves (capsizing)
Lost forever in this lonely place (capsizing)
If tomorrow comes, can I keep holding on
Or let this storm I've made wash it all away

(Capsizing)
(Capsizing)
(Capsizing)
