Alchemy

Fractures

Oh my innocence
Only look to you so long
Oh my cynical
I know where you are
Take what it might give but you won't
(Oh yeah)
Pray to some old God to rescue
To rescue you

I might have known
You were running
You're not alone
You've undone it
You've undone it oh

Everything in retrospect
You can't know, you can't know this
Promises that went unkept
You can't own, you can't own it
All you said was relative
True to none, true to no one
Problems you'd sooner left
You go run, you go running

I might have known
You were running
You're not alone
You've undone it
You've undone it oh

I might have known
You were running
You're not alone
You've undone it
You've undone it oh

Ooo, not so fast
Not always
Ooo, but you're still running
Looking for escape
Ooo, not so fast
Why can't it wait?
Ooo, but you're still running
You're still running

I might have known
You were running
You're not alone
You've undone it
You've undone it oh

I might have known
You were running
You're not alone
You've undone it
You've undone it oh
