

You know I can't keep on holding on to one time feelings
You're strong and I'm weak
When I lose my balance you catch me

So why drag it on, if I leave
Would you notice, fill the vacancy
It feels wrong for some reason
I try to let go but I keep

Hearing our song, in my sleep
I wake up just wanting you next to me
I see your face, when I close my eyes
Why can't I make a connection with you, why can't I

Lingers on my mind, I want to but we don't align Seasons change, it subsides
The memory remains we just paused it
You're just my flickering past
You're just a feeling that suffocates me
How can the thing that I want
Be resigned to some transient connection

Hearing our song, in my sleep
I wake up just wanting you next to me
I see your face, when I close my eyes
Why can't I make a connection with you, why can't I

(Don't let me go)
(Don't let me go)
(Don't let me go)
(Don't let me go)

(Don't let me go)
(Don't let me go)
(Don't let me go)
(Don't let me go)

Hearing our song, in my sleep
I wake up just wanting you next to me
I see your face, when I close my eyes
Why can't I make a connection with you, why can't I