

Slow down you run again
Black out what's creeping in
Whole time wondering how to breathe again
Focus the energy
Lost faith in the combination
Hold your tongue to see it leave again

Too far for recovery
Too far to turn back now
Too far to complicate
(So tired of balancing)
Too hard to convey
Truth hurts so why delay it?
Too hard contemplating
Fear the change

Slow down you run again
Black out what's creeping in
Whole time wondering how to breathe again
Focus the energy
Lost faith in the combination
Hold your tongue to see it leave again

Point to an apathy
Recoil all based on date
Think on what you might change
(Colour your calibre)
Seek out apology
Go through the gallow's phase
Restock
Rearrange
Re-engage

Slow down you run again
Black out what's creeping in
Whole time wondering how to breathe again
Focus the energy
Lost faith in the combination
Hold your tongue to see it leave again

Shut it out of mind till it's twofold
Cover up till the bones dry out
Shoulder blame or deny the truth of it
Lock it in or let it down

Slow down you run again
Black out what's creeping in
Whole time wondering how to breathe again
Focus the energy
Lost faith in the combination
Hold your tongue to see it leave again
