

Strangers

Fractures

Know that I'm not running
But I know until I'm lost I won't feel free again
Stay still, and they won't notice
Safe inside this camouflage from real life

I come alive, but you must understand
It's only when I find myself among a type
I show myself unravel slowly

We can't see ourselves, we're lost and found, we're lonely people
We are strangers we are fine (leave the world behind)
We make sense, when nothing's left, we live our secret lives
For a time, just to leave the world behind

Take me somewhere I can blend in (on my own)
Somewhere that nobody knows me
If only I could sink in, to find my feet again (let me go)
Only one, it's all I want, contented solely, the only

We can't see ourselves, we're lost and found, we're lonely people
We are strangers we are fine (leave the world behind)
We make sense when nothing's left, we live our secret lives
For a time, just to leave the world behind

Come to realise, what feels right, this solitary life, I live mine
And the need, for someone so foreign, only thoughts escape
So we wait, so we wait, we get away

We can't see ourselves, we're lost and found, we're lonely people
We are strangers we are fine (leave the world behind)
We make sense when nothing's left, we live our secret lives
