

Time Frame

Fractures

Slow hand, crawl space
Time comes, time escapes
Low light, creaking moon
Your shape, gone too soon

Window, words fail
See through, sealing fate
False hope, carry me through
Love takes, love consumes

Did you say it in a hushed tone
Or maybe I was dreaming?
I've been hearing things you won't say
I've been living in a time frame
I got caught up in your soft face
But did you ever reach out?
I was living in a past life
I was stuck inside a time frame

Soft touch, cold embrace
Forced smile, forced to chase
Time stops, then proceeds
Your shape, all I need

Did you say it in a hushed tone
Or maybe I was dreaming?
I've been hearing things you won't say
I've been living in a time frame
I got caught up in your soft face
But did you ever reach out?
I was living in a past life
I was stuck inside a time frame

Did you say it in a hushed tone
Or maybe I was dreaming?
I've been hearing things you won't say
I've been living in a time frame
I got caught up in your soft face
But did you ever reach out?
I was living in a past life
I was stuck inside a time frame
