

Don't make me say it twice
Something had to give but it's over now
You'll thank me when it dries out
Whole thing's a compromise
Hurt me to think it but I'm hopeful the thinking's sound
I know it makes sense somehow

Don't miss me, I'm okay
Don't look for possibilities
I made it easier, believe me
I see you're caught up
But I'll preempt my mistakes
I hope you find affinity
I would be selfish to keep you

Don't let it tear you up
It's only a momentary fall
You'll land feet first, I know
There's reason, I know it's right
The fault in this is mine and I'm sorry, love
I broke your trust

Don't miss me, I'm okay
Don't look for possibilities
I made it easier, believe me
I see you're caught up
But I'll preempt my mistakes
I hope you find affinity
I would be selfish to keep you

I, I know, know you'll get a feeling
And I'll be sad to see it, 'cause I've seen it
I, I know, know you won't believe me
I know it's what we needed, 'cause I needed it

Don't miss me, I'm okay
Don't look for possibilities
I made it easier, believe me
I see you're caught up
But I'll preempt my mistakes
I hope you find affinity
I would be selfish to keep you
