

Say Less

Framing Hanley

I see you rising ahead
The tides are high and our heads' below
Fear climbing to red and I don't really know how far we can go
Divided we stand, just throwing change in a wishing well
We blinded ourselves

We swore there's another way out of this hell
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Will you run for cover or say that you're in?
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)

You go over, you think
There's right or left to think about
These praises we sing
Like they put the words right in our mouths
With steady hands and violent stealth
Chosen land just beyond that hill
It's time, it's time

Our lifeline is fading out
Is our story told?

We swore there's another way out of this hell
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Will you run for cover or say that you're in?
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)

Line you up, today you're eighteen
Sell it to you like a daydream
It's convenience with a bow
Cut the strings and let them go

And all my life I've seen some strange things
The way we take it is what's crazy
Too busy reaping what they've sown
Will we be a story told?

We swore there's another way out of this hell
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Stop running for cover just say that you're in
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Say less (put your money where your mouth is)
Say less (put your money where your mouth is, put your money where yo ur mouth is)
