

For My Dearly Departed

Franco

When I wake up it seems Like my world is caving in
I won't break down this time
I'll be fine

With dull dimension speaking of the truth
And howls of chaos the bleeding of the moon
Rounding up this time
I'll be fine

Let your love caress me
Like the tide embraces the sea
Let our soul connection
Bring me alive today

Am I lost and can be found
Heaven's locked, hell not a sound
All my angels left and gone
It rains down

Turn the key enough for rescue
And burn the light
The light that burns through
But here it comes again
It rains down

Well live your life a little
Breathe in and out a little
I say a prayer for you

Let your love caress me
Like the tide embraces the sea
Let our soul connection
Bring me alive today
